Looking to create an income stream from your residential investment property?

Investing in residential real estate is a great way to build wealth. As an asset class, a buy-to-let property offer unique benefits, combining a rental income stream that can fund your investment by paying off your mortgage, with long-term capital growth that can produce market-beating returns. But there is a drawback: the business of finding and managing a tenant can be complex, time-consuming and involves potentially serious legal and taxation issues. If not handled professionally, your buy-to-let investment can become a real headache!

This is where the expertise of Signatura Rentals comes in. We offer a seamless suite of services that will take care of all the paperwork, remove the risk, and give you the financial benefits of your investment without any hassles.

Why Signatura?

We offer a one-stop service to help you manage the entire rental process

Signatura Rentals, a subsidiary of Signatura Property Developers, has a proven track record of procuring and managing quality tenants, both for buy-to-let investors in our many prestigious developments and for many other property owners in the greater Cape Town area.

The initial idea behind Signatura Rentals was to offer our clients a full suite of property investment and real estate services. So in addition to developing outstanding real estate products, we are also able to assist in finding a quality tenant, as well as taking care of all the administration and management of their lease agreement.

Sometimes, this process takes place prior to handover from the developer, which means that our investors are often able to generate a rental income from their investment property from day one!

This expertise means we are ideally positioned to partner with other development companies as well, offering their investment buyers position the very same suite of real estate services.

I have a 9-year long-standing relationship with Nickie and Simon taking care of my property portfolio. We grew together in the trade and I trust them completely with our properties. They are very professional and transparent with their dealings. The trade does have its challenges but to date, no challenge cost me additional to get resolved. From an investment point of view, I will keep growing our portfolio with them as my partners.
